Description
Most websites work better with a wide viewport. However, it is possible that there are some that don't. If a user can give an example URL in the comments below I will implement the option to disable wide viewport.

I am not personally aware of any website that looks better with wide viewport disabled, but Bruce Turlish left a comment on <https://www.stoutner.com/privacy-browser/> saying that his personal bookmarks website works better that way, so I will implement it.
